(3) of vegetables and the adequacy of vegetarian meals in terms of the number of ..... (4) provided to the body. Vegetarianism is not a new concept, rather an ancient custom which evolved in the Far East cultures on ethical or religious grounds.

In today's world, it has been undertaken by many followers who for a variety of reasons believe the vegetarian diet more preferable to that containing meat. For example, there's the theory that animal meat wasn't originally a component of the staple human diet as mankind evolved from foragers who later ..... (5) a taste for flesh. Hence, our ..... (6) ancestors are alleged to have had a substantial ..... (7) of proteins and vitamins from natural vegetation rather than from the meat of hunted ..... (8). What's more, human teeth don't ..... (9) much resemblance to those of animal carnivores, and neither is our digestive system ..... (10) to the meat eaters' one.

Apart from the enforced vegetarianism of underdeveloped communities where populations deprived of animal protein ..... (11) the natural vegetation, there's a rising acceptance of the vegetarian diet which ..... (12) to be regarded as an eccentricity. .... (13) from animal food, be it for religious, economic or humanitarian reasons, has been a quickly spreading custom as, surprisingly, the vegetarian diet needn't be dull or deficient. Yet, it does involve taking good ..... (14) to supply the body with a sufficient quantity of nutrients ..... (15) from corn, seeds and cereals.
