Let's go jogging.
(shall)

Shall we go jogging?

Please turn the TV off.
(could)

Could you turn the TV off?

Am I allowed to sit here? (may)

May I sit here?

Please answer the phone. (will)

Will you answer the phone?

Don't bite your nails.
(must)

You mustn't bite your nails.

Do you mind if I use your pen? (can)

Can I use your pen?

I wish I had checked the tyres. (ought)

I ought to have checked the tyres.

These curtains don't have to be ironed. (need)

These curtains don't need ironing./ You don't need to iron these curtains

It's not polite to speak with your mouth full. (should)

You shouldn't speak with your mouth full.

Why don't we visit Mark and Jane? (shall)

Shall we visit Mark and Jane?

Is there any chance that he'll phone? (likely)

Is he likely to phone?/
Is it likely that he will phone?

It's advisable to brush your teeth after meals. (should)

You should brush your teeth after meals.

There's a possibility that he'll arrive a little late. (might)

He might arrive a little late.

Do you know how to ice-skate? (can)

Can you ice-skate?

It wasn't necessary to show any identification but he did. (need)

He needn't have shown any identification.

Why didn't you tell me there was no one in? (could)

You could have told me there was no one in.

It wasn't necessary for us to wait because there was no queue. (need)

We didn't need to wait because there was no queue.

Let's go to the cinema tonight. (shall)

Shall we go to the cinema tonight?

It's important that you be here at 9.00.
(must)

You must be here at 9.00

I'm sure he is a millionaire.
(must)

He must be a millionaire.

Perhaps he'll change his mind. (may)

He may change his mind.

Please, help me carry these! (could)

Could you help me carry these?

I don't believe she paid so much for that dress.
(can)

She can't have paid so much for that dress.

It's a good idea to lock the door at night.
(should)

You should lock the door at night.

Is there any chance we'll get a pay rise?
(likely)

Are we likely to get a pay rise?/ Is it likely that we will get a pay rise?

Why didn't they inform us of the delay?
(could)

They could have informed us of the delay.

We could try to mend it ourselves. (Let's)

Let's try to mend it ourselves

It wasn't necessary for you to go to so much trouble.
(need)

You needn't have gone to so much trouble.

It's a good idea to show more respect.
(ought to)

You ought to show more respect.

You have to inform the bank of any change of address. (must)

You must inform the bank of any change of address.