SECOND CONDITIONAL

A. Introduction to Conditionals

Conditionals are used to express a hypothetical situation. This is when you don't know if something will happen or not, so you make a guess about what the result might be. There are four conditional patterns in the English language, and they usually involve an "if" clause. This lesson will focus on the second conditional, also known as the unreal conditional.

B. The Second Conditional

Pattern: If + past, would + base verb

Use: The second conditional shows an unlikely or impossible outcome that wouldn't happen in most cases (unless a specific condition were somehow met).

Tip #1

The verb in the if clause is a simple past verb, and the verb in the main clause is would + the base form of the verb. A sentence can begin with either clause with no change in meaning. Remember that a sentence that begins with an if clause is followed by a comma.

- If they had more money, they would buy a car.
- They would buy a car if they had more money.

Examples

Sentences	Condition	Outcome	Explanation
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• If we won the lottery, we would travel around the world.</li> <li>• We would travel around the world if we won the lottery.</li> </ul>	winning the lottery	traveling around the world	Winning the lottery is rare, so this is very unlikely .
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• If I had wings, I would fly to Japan.</li> <li>• I would fly to Japan if I had wings.</li> </ul>	having wings	flying to Japan	I don't have wings, so this is impossible .
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• If Lisa lived near the beach, she would learn to surf.</li> <li>• Lisa would learn to surf if she lived near the beach.</li> </ul>	living near the beach	learning to surf	She doesn't live near the beach now, so this is unlikely .

Sentences	Condition	Outcome	Explanation
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>If I were rich, I wouldn't work anymore.*</li> <li>I wouldn't work anymore if I were rich.</li> </ul>	being rich	not working	I don't have a lot of money right now, so this is unlikely .
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>If my grandparents were young again, they would do things differently.</li> <li>My grandparents would do things differently if they were young again.</li> </ul>	being young again	living life in a different way	They can't go back in time, so this is impossible .
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>If the children had a pool, they would swim every day.</li> <li>The children would swim every day if they had a pool.</li> </ul>	having a pool	swimming every day	They don't have a pool now, so this is unlikely .

*Tip #2

The Be verb in conditional sentences is always were (not was) for all subjects. Some people choose to ignore this rule, but it's best to follow it.

- If I were a dog, I would lie around in the sun all day.
- If Juan were an astronaut, he would fly to the moon.

Tip #3

Would can contract to 'd with subjects that are pronouns. Would not can contract to wouldn't with any subject.

- If the clerk were taller, she'd be able to reach the top shelf.
- If my coworker inherited a lot of money, he probably wouldn't work here anymore.

Tip #4

Could + base verb can be used in place of a past verb or would + base verb to indicate ability or possibility.

- If I could ski, I would buy a season's pass at my local mountain.
- If I didn't have to babysit tonight, I could go to Marco's party.

Exercise 1

Exercise 6

SURVEY

Work in small groups. Complete the chart below by asking your classmates the following questions using the second conditional.

#	Question	Classmate #1	Classmate #2	Classmate #3
1	If you won a million dollars, what would you do with it?
2	If you could have three wishes, what would you wish for?
3	If you could buy a new car, what kind would you buy?
4	If you could spend a day with any famous person in the world, who would you choose?
5	If you had enough money to travel to any place in the world, where would you go first?
6	If you could have any job you wanted, what would it be?
7	If you could live anywhere in the world, where would you choose to live?
8	If you were the leader of your country, what would you try to do first?

Exercise 7

WHAT'S YOUR ADVICE?

Read the following situations and write some advice using the second conditional.

Ex. Lee eats a lot of junk food and sweets, but he complains that he is fat.

If he ate healthier, he wouldn't have a problem with his weight.

1. Andrea doesn't pay attention in class. Then she doesn't understand the homework.

---

2. Sayid is always late because he doesn't wear a watch.

---

3. Maria is not a good tennis player because she never practices.

---

4. Min's father always burns dinner because he doesn't set the timer on the oven.

---

5. Johnny's mom often gets mad at him because he doesn't pick up his toys.

---

6. Toshi gets a lot of speeding tickets because he drives too fast.

---

7. Kwan coughs a lot because he smokes.

---

8. Claire doesn't feel good because she doesn't exercise.

---

9. Ana can never take a vacation because she spends all her money on new clothes.

---

10. Kevin doesn't get good grades because he doesn't study much.

---

Exercise 9

GROUP DISCUSSION

Discuss the following questions in small groups.

1. What would you do if you saw someone having a heart attack?
2. What would you do if a fire broke out in your house or apartment?
3. How would you feel if you went to a party and you were the only one who didn't bring a present?
4. What would you do if you were lying in bed late at night and you heard someone trying to break into your house? How would you feel?
5. What would you do if your neighbors had noisy parties every weekend?
6. How would you feel if your landlord told you that you had to move out of your apartment in one week? What would you do?
7. How would you feel if your teacher told you that you were going to have a big exam tomorrow? What would you do?
8. What would you do if the person you loved were moving to another country?
9. How would you feel if your doctor told you that you only had two more months to live? What would you do?
10. What would you do if you went hiking up a mountain and got lost? What would you do if you saw a bear?

Now think of five more questions to ask your group.
Use the second conditional in each question.

11. _____
12. _____
13. _____
14. _____
15. _____

Exercise 10

HOPE & WISH

A. Review

Compare the verbs hope and wish in the chart below.

	Hope	Wish
Patterns	hope + simple present	wish + simple past wish + would/could + base verb
Uses	likely, possible situations	unlikely or impossible situations
Examples	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I hope I do well this semester.</li> <li>• I hope you feel better soon.</li> <li>• The children hope it snows.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I wish I had more time to finish this project, but it's due now.</li> <li>• I wish I could fly.</li> <li>• She wishes she were* rich.</li> </ul>

*Note

As with second conditional sentences, the Be verb after wish becomes were, not was, for all subjects.

B. Practice

Read the examples using hope and wish and the first and second conditional. Then finish the sentences using the first or second conditional.

Ex. I hope it is sunny tomorrow. If it is sunny, I will go to the beach.

Ex. I wish I were ten years younger. If I were ten years younger, I would train for a marathon.

1. I hope I pass the exam. If _____

| 2. b | 4. c | 6. b | 8. a | 10. b | 12. b |

Extra Practice I

On page 17, you will find a page of sentence strips to cut up. Cut the if and main clauses into strips and give one clause to each student. Have the students search the room for the matching clause (note that there is more than one possibility in some cases—you can accept any logical, reasonable match). As an alternative task, give each pair or group a set of mixed-up strips and have them arrange all the strips into the correct order. These tasks would work well as a warm-up to this lesson or for review later on.

Extra Practice II

On page 18, you will find a comparison chart with all four conditional tenses. Comparing all the conditional tenses at once can be helpful for students to see when and why each is used. Try presenting the chart before or after the Second Conditional lesson. You can find more teaching tips on our blog (<http://blog.esllibrary.com/2013/03/14/an-easy-way-to-teach-conditionals/>) and in our Grammar Practice Worksheets section (<https://esllibrary.com/courses/88/lessons>). In that section, you'll find our lessons on the First and Third Conditional.

SPELLING NOTE:

This lesson shows the American spelling of the words Traveling, Center, Neighbors, and Practice. Most other English-speaking countries spell these words this way: Travelling, Centre, Neighbours, and Practise (when used as a verb; Practice when used as a noun). Make it a challenge for your students to find these words in the lesson and see if they know the alternate spellings.
